Calm Waters

Norfolk Island is renowned for its tranquillity. The relaxed and peaceful atmosphere is just one attribute that sees the return of the same visitors time and time again. The sea can be both rough and stormy, and yet convey a calm and solitude that only the ocean waves can deliver. For isolated Norfolk, dependant on the sea, boats have always been an essential element of island life. Local artist Tracey Yager has captured the tranquility of Norfolk's waters with boat images in this beautiful calming set entitled 'Calm Waters'.

We hope you like them as much as we do.

Peace Keeping

Norfolk Islander's first served in the Australian Armed Forces in the 1899 Boer War. Since that time, many Islanders have given their life in the service of their fellow man, and Island memorials pay tribute to that sacrifice. Returned Services League is part of the Island's community life. This set is the first in a series depicting the peace Keeping role of the Australian Armed Forces.

Christmas 2001

This year we celebrate the first Christmas of the new Millennium. In the New Testament Jesus said "Consider the Lilies of the field, how they grow. They neither toil or spin. And yet even Solomon in all his Glory, was not arrayed like one of these". Norfolk Island echoes the words of Christ in His love for all of God's creations, with the celebration of this First Christmas with Mary Butterfield's interpretation of the Island's beautiful flowers. On 4 November, All Saints Church, Kingston celebrates Hibiscus Sunday, a day not to forget. The designs are Christmas Hibiscus, Indian Shot, Strawberry Guava, Christmas Croton and Poinsettia. Each stamp is accompanied by a verse of a famous Christmas Hymn.
