Dear Collectors

In this edition of the Stamp Bulletin Australia we present the final stamp issues of what has been a very eventful year. We have received a record number of requests for subjects and themes for consideration for future stamp issues and welcome all of these especially those from our Bulletin readers. This is a great reflection of the level of interest in Australian stamps from not only collectors, but from those in the present areas of commerce and from the general public. It also ensures a varied and interesting program.

There are three stamp issues represented in this edition, which are to be released at the end of October. The first is a joint issue with South Korea, celebrating 2011 as a year of friendship and for which a number of events have been held throughout the year. The stamps include an aspect of each country's cultural heritage and the issue also presents an Australian philatelic first – the inclusion of a quick response (QR) code inside the large stamp pack. By using a Smartphone to scan the QR code, an application on the phone will allow you to access a multimedia file presented on the Australia Post website. The media file is a film of a traditional South Korean musician.

For collectors of Christmas Island Christmas stamps there are two new additions in this year's program. "Snorkelling Santa" emerges from the water to greet a couple of Christmas Island crabs, and there's also a Christmas Island cracker pull. These stamps are a favourite with children and are all about the fun and enjoyment of Christmas festivities. For those wanting to use traditional or other secular Christmas stamp designs three new card rate stamps are available. We are also releasing our first Christmas postal and numismatic cover, complete with a coloured Christmas tree coin from Perth Mint. There is a range of postage-paid Christmas card packs using this year's stamp designs available at participating postal outlets.

For those with a passion for golf we have produced a range of postage-paid postcard packs featuring some of Australia's premier golf courses. Children will love our new range of colourful souvenir stamp sheets. These stamp sheets make a great Christmas gift, along with our soft and cuddly plush golf buddy on page 12.

On 2 November a very special stamp issue, Remembrance Day 11.11.11, will remind Australians to reflect on the sacrifice of all those who have served in times of conflict. The significance of the date sequence is also important and will not occur again until 2111. Also to be released are three prestige covers and a special stamp medallion in a presentation folder.

Finally, a reminder to order your copy of the 2011 Annual Collection of Australian Stamps. This year we present a special sheetlet using the Flood Relief stamps released in January. I would also like to wish all our readers and their families a very Merry Christmas and a safe and happy New Year.

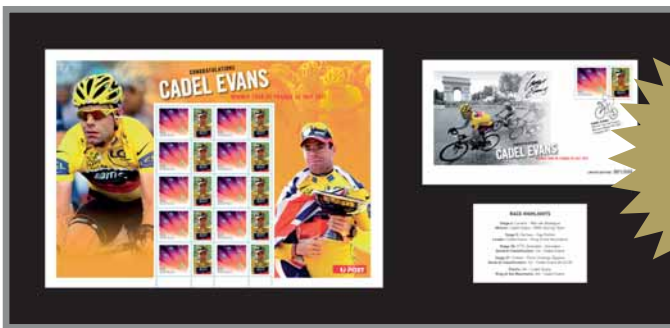

Happy Collecting

Issue highlights

The large stamp pack includes a Quick Response (QR) code for use with your smartphone.

By scanning the QR code you can access a short online film, of a haegeum musician, at auspost.com.au

Following a visit to Australia by President Lee Myung-bak in March 2009, this year has been declared a Year of Friendship between Australia and South Korea to mark the 50th anniversary of diplomatic relations. The 2011 Year of Friendship builds on the professional, community and institutional links between Australia and Korea to enhance mutual understanding, friendship and goodwill. It also helps to project a well-informed, contemporary image of Australia in Korea.

The Australia-Korea relationship was forged during the Korean War and diplomatic relations were established in 1961. It has now developed into a broad-based partnership, including substantial trade and investment links. Affirming the two countries' common purpose in actively working together and with other countries are forums such as APEC, the ASEAN Regional Forum, the East Asia Summit and the G20. These advance the stability, development and security of the East Asia region, particularly in the face of the international financial crisis. The two countries have been cooperating to achieve middle-power leadership in the international community by raising voices together at the G20 as well as on climate change and other issues.

60c Haegeum musician

This stamp features a woman shown playing a haegeum, a traditional Korean musical instrument. This two-stringed vertical instrument dates back to the Goryeo Dynasty (918–1392). It is played with a hardwood bow strung with horsehair that is inserted between two strings attached to a resonating soundbox made of paulownia wood. Two twisted silk strings attached to the bottom of the soundbox pass over a small wooden bridge and up the long bamboo neck to large pegs.

$1.65 Didgeridoo musician

The didgeridoo is a wind instrument that originated in northern Australia at least 1,500 years ago. It is composed of a eucalyptus hardwood branch hollowed out by termites over time. Traditionally played by men for ceremonial and recreational purposes, The droning sound is produced by a vibration of the lips while using a special circular breathing technique.

Korea Post will issue its stamp designs on 28 October 2011. Two postmark dates will be a feature of the joint products.

1706220 Maxicard set of five

Issue highlights

This issue includes the first Christmas PNC from Australia Post and two embellished sheetlets of 10 stamps.

This year's Christmas issue includes two stamps with a religious theme and three that focus on the more secular elements of Christmas. The beautiful religious stamps show two episodes from the Biblical story. In the 55c stamp the Virgin Mary, dressed in her traditional deep blue robe, gazes tenderly at the newborn baby Jesus. In the $1.50 stamp, the three Kings or Wise Men, Caspar, Melchior and Balthazar, are shown journeying from the east to Bethlehem in order to worship the Christ Child. They are dressed in rich robes as befits their royal station. The guiding star can be seen in the night sky.

The three secular stamps offer an alternative to those who celebrate the festive season but who would prefer not to focus on the religious aspect of Christmas. Many Australians identify Christmas with the Christmas tree and the excitement of opening elaborately wrapped presents early on Christmas morning. The decorative Christmas star is a reference to the bright star that the Wise Men followed from the east.

55c Pulling crackers

FIRST DAY OF ISSUE
31 OCTOBER 2011
CHRISTMAS ISLAND WA 6798

Collectors of Christmas Island stamps will be delighted, once again, with these festive designs to celebrate Christmas. The stamp issue takes a light-hearted approach to Christmas, integrating symbols of Christmas with the island's natural environment in a humorous graphic manner.

60c Pulling crackers

In a classic Christmas Island setting and surrounded by a number of delighted birds and a green sea turtle, Father Christmas and a Red Crab (Gecarcoidea natalis) pull a Christmas cracker. A lovely Ridley's Orchid (Brachypeza archytas) hangs among the Christmas lights while a Christmas Island Frigatebird (Fregata andrewsi), a Golden Bosunbird (Phaethon lepturus fulvus), an Abbott's Booby (Sula abbotti) and a Green Sea Turtle look on.

$1.50 Father Christmas arrives on Christmas Island

Christmas Island is known for its snorkelling sites. Father Christmas has taken time out to do some snorkelling before arriving on the island to be met by a number of excited crabs, birds and fish, including an Eastern Reef Egret (Egretta sacra), a Red-footed Booby (Sula sula rubripes), a Moorish Idol (Zanclus cornutus) and a Whitelined Cod (Anyperoden leucogrammicus).

Booklet
of 10 (s/a)

Remembrance Day, initially known as Armistice Day, marks the anniversary of the armistice on 11 November 1918, which led to the end of World War I – the Great War. Remembrance is observed through one minute's silence at the 11th hour on the 11th day of the 11th month in honour of those who have died or been wounded in all theatres of war.

The significance of the commemoration throughout allied nations increased in 1920, with the return to Britain of the remains of an unknown soldier. Felled on the battlefields of the Western Front, he was interred with full military honours. At the end of World War II, the Australian government agreed with Britain's proposal to rename the annual observation Remembrance Day, extending the commemoration to those who have served in all military conflicts.

The most notable symbol of Remembrance Day is the red poppy, or Flanders poppy (Papaver rhoeas). It gained resonance for being among the first plants to bloom on the battlefields of northern France and Belgium during the Great War. For soldiers, the red petals represented the blood of their fallen comrades.

The French YMCA secretary suggested selling Remembrance Day poppies to raise funds for the benefit of war widows, orphans and veterans in need. Originally, the silk poppies were made by children in orphanages in devastated areas of France, with part of the raised funds going to support the children. The poppies were first sold in Australia in 1921 and the tradition has since continued in conjunction with war commemorations.
